UTAH PRODUCTS AT DAIRY SHOW

Chicago Exposition to Have an Exhibit From Utah This Month.

PHOTOS SHOW IMPROVEMENT

City Food and Dairy Commissioner Frazier Shows Change From Unsanitary to Sanitary.

Utah will be well represented at the National dairy show to be held in Chicago, October 20-29. Samples of Utah dairy products, milk, cream, butter and cheese, will be on exhibition and Walter J. Frazier, city food and dairy commissioner, will be on the job to see that a correct impression of Utah as a dairy state is given to the thousands of visitors at the show.

All the dairy samples from this state, as from other states, must be submitted on or before Oct. 13, in order that there may be ample time for them to be examined in Chicago before being placed on exhibition, Oct. 20.

Among the persons and firms likely to submit samples of dairy products at the show are the following: Clover farm, Clover Leaf dairy, Ben R. Eldredge, W. C. Winder, E. G Pierce, A. J. Cannon, Soren Dahl, A. V. Miller and J. J. Bock. Most of these are from Salt J. Beck. Most of these are from Salt Lake City, though there are several from outside points in the country.

Mr. Frazier said this morning that he was getting up a collection of photographs of sanitary and unsanitary dairies to be sent to Ivan C. Wells, assistant in the dairy division of the department of agriculture. These photographs will show a wonderful improvement during the past year.

HEAVY CUSTOMS BUSINESS.

Collector Greenewald Kept Busy With Large Receipts.

The Salt Lake custom house continues to do a heavy business, September having proved a record maker, and this month promising to be another. A feature of the present run of business is the receipt of a growing amount of personal baggage largely belonging to Utah people who have been in Canada and Mexico, while some have been in Europe. Passage of personal effects in bond from the seaboard and frontiers to this city for inspection instead of being overhauled by not overcareful officials elsewhere, is considered a great boon. There has long been "a great how!" at seaport cities from returning tourists who object to having the con-tents of their trunks spilled all over the steamers' decks while custom house inspectors rummage for supposed contraband articles. So by having one's baggage shipped through in bond to place of destination, all this grief is avoided, and baggage is inspected here by Mr. Greenewald in person with somewhat more delicacy than obtains at border points of entry.

The local custom house is in receipt of large lots of English manufactured hats, household goods, beet knives from Germany, oriental rugs from India, sardines from Norway, foreign linens, and growing variety of other articles. The establishment of a custom house at this point is a great convenience to intermountain shippers and people generally that handle imported stuffs.

BOY SCOUTS FALL IN.

Ninety-two Boy Scouts were given their initial drill practise in the basement of the First Congregational church Friday night under the supervision of F. H. Carr drillmaster of the local shrine, and Lleut. Lee of Fort initiated. The vegular army drill book will be followed, new features being instituted each week, until June.

GERMAN REUNION HELD.

Celebrate Sixtieth Anniversary of the Introduction of the Gospel.

The reunion of the German and Swiss Saints was held Friday evening at the Odeon. The occasion was in commemoration of the sixtleth anniversary of the introduction of the gospel among the German speaking nations. Saints from Utah, Idaho, and Wyoming were present and enjoyed an evening of much pleasure. From 7 to 9 the general hand-shake was the order, after which hand-shake was the order, after which a well arranged program was rendered. Living pictures illustrating historical events of the Fatherland were given, a gymnastic drill was rendered by about 40 young men and women in uniform. The Swiss yodelers brought forth merited applause. Although standing room was at a premium, the dance which terminated the evenlog's fostivities was enjoyed in true Gerfestivities was enjoyed in true German style. As a necessary adjunct to the evening's entertainment a typical German lunch was served; included in this were all the inviting dishes which appeal so strongly to the German paltor of the German paper, The Beobach-ter, was master of ceremonies. Tonight the reunion in the Assembly hall take the form of addresses and All German speaking elders and Saints are invited.

STEAMER HELD FOR CHINESE PRINCE

Carry Tsai Hsun Back To Orient.

INTERESTED IN WARSHIPS

Toyo Kisen Kaisha Forms Alliance With Western Pacific Effective Next February.

(Special Correspondence.) San Francisco, Oct. 5.—Telegraphic dispatches have been sent out to all the principtl agencies stating that the Toyo Kisca Kaisha steamer Chiyo Maru, which was scheduled to leave San Francisco on October 4, would be held day or two for the accommodation of Prince Tsai Hsun, who is returning to Japan from the east.

Prince Tsai Tsun who is in charge of Chinese naval-affairs has been in this country a little over two weeks, on bus-iness concerning affairs in his bureau. He is accompanied by Admiral Sah and a brilliant suite and arrived in San Francisco Sept 16, on the Manchurla. He left almost immediately for the east in a special train accompanied by Charles M. Schwab, who is interested in various shipbuilding enterprises and who expected to receive an order from the prince for a new battleship or two. Before leaving San Francisco the prince made arrangements at the Fairmont hotel with Wm. H. Avery, assistant general manager of the Japanese line, for the return passage on the Chiyo Maru. While the holding of a steamer while the holding of a steamer two days over her schedule is an un-usual thing even for royalty, it will in no way interfere with the arriving time of the steamer on the other side. as the Chiyo Maru is probably the fast-est of the trans-Pacific lines, and can easily make up for the delay when in mid-ocean. It is equipped with triple screws driven by great turbine engines and is known among travelers as the Lusitania of the Pacific. The great size of the Marus make

The great size of the Marus make them the most comfortable ship plying between San Francisco and the orient, and in point of comfort, equipment, service, cuisine, they are absolutely unsurpassed. The Toyo Kisen Kaisha have formed a traffic agreement with the Western Pacific rallway, which goes the Schwarze of which time if into effect in February at which time it will cut loose from the present alliance with the Pacific Mail.

BODY STILL UNIDENTIFIED.

Man Killed at King Hill Not Son of Orson Pratt.

The identity of the young man whose body was found lying on the railroad track three miles east of King Hill on Oct. 5, by a section foreman of the Oregon Short Line has not yet been established. It was at first thought that he was a resident of Provo, a son of Orson Pratt of that place, but investigation proves that theory to be incorrect. The body is being held at Pocatello by the ratiroac company, awaiting identification. A more complete description than at first sent out has been given by the railroad com-pany. The young man was 5 feet 10 inches tall, light complexioned, light hair, white regular teeth, age about 19 or 20. He were a neat blue serge coat, vest and trousers of the same goods, the coat bearing the label of Siegel & Co., of Salt Lake. He also wore a blue serge cap, black gunmetal oxfords, a green tie and celluloid collar. He also wore on his finger a gold band ring inlaid with rose gold.

SPIKE AND RAIL.

J. H. Manderfield, assistant general freight and passenger agent of the Salt Lake Route, returned this morning from Los Angeles, where he went with a special train carrying delegates to the bankers' convention.

J. W. Ellingson, contracting freight agent of the Salt Lake Route, left for Phoenix, Ariz., via Los Angeles, last evening, on his vacation. Mr. Elling-son expects to be gone about two weeks.

A new feature on the cards backing the menu slips used on the dining cars of the Salt Lake Route is a fine half tone cut of the temple grounds and the city and county building at Salt It makes a splendid advertisement for this city.

Contract Awarded—The contract for the first 100 miles of new extension of the Fernley & Masson railroad, extending from the Southern Pacific between Wadsworth and Fernley north toward Oregon, has been awarded to Erick-son & Fernley, contractors of San Francisco.

New Cars Arriving—Many new steel freight cars are arriving for the Ore-gon Short Line, making valuable ad-ditions to the road's rolling stock.

WHO TO BE BLAMED FOR CAR ACCIDENT

Chiyo Maru, Japanese Liner, Will | Those Interested Are Inquiring About the Matter Today.

FOUR STILL AT THE HOSPITAL

Other Victims Have Been Discharged-Company Proceeding With an Investigation,

All those injured in the streetcar accident of yesterday at Second West and First South are doing nicely today, Only four are at the Judge Mercy hospital, where most of the injured were taken after the accident. Others went to their homes last night and this morning.

The Knabelau boy, whose left leg was broken in several places, is perhaps the worst injured of the entire crowd in the car. He is in fair condition, however, and he will recover.

Mrs. Alice Lambourne, living at 1126 east Sixth South, is the worst injured of the older ones hurt. Abel Peterson with M. J. Condon, and the above makes up the four that are at the hospital.

Now that it is certain that none of the maimed will die as the result of their injuries, those interested are asking, "Who is to blame?" Those who were in the accident, and can remember, and those who witnessed the collision from the street, are also of the opinion that the motorman and a the opinion that the motorman and a defective brake were the causes. Many of those who were injured announce through their parents or friends that their intention is to begin suit at once for heavy damages.

The father of the Halverson boy is especially wroth at the Utah Light & Railway company. He says that they should be punished for using the old rattle-trap cars and loading them up as they did without an air brake. He points out the fact that the brake was not enough to stop the car, much less the trailer, too. And he asks, "Why someone was not at the brake on the trailer?" Where is Motorman H. F. Millan,

CHADWICK WINS GREAT AUTOMOBILE RACE

Philadelphia, Oct. 8 .- A raw northeast wind chilled the thousands of spectators who gathered along the 8-mile course in Fairmont park today to witness the big 200-mile automobile road race of the Quaker city motor club, scheduled to start at noon.

Because of the heavy roads from yesterday's rain, there was some doubt early in the day as to whether the race would be run or postponed until the first clear day. But as the rain held off and the roads were not in a dangerous condition, the committee in charge decided to start the race. Some of the best drivers in the country are entered, among them being five of the nine drivers who inished in the Vanderbilt event last Saturday. Elaborate arrangements have been made by the police department for protecting the spectators and contestants. Except where there are natural barriers, the entire course will be roped off and 3,000 policemen and soveral hundred Fairmont park guards will line the way. Thirty-two cars are entered and the prizes amount to $10,000. The cars are divided into five classes according to piston displacement, but they will start in numerical order, no one being sent away first. The fastest car in each class will receive $1,000 in cash and a trophy valued at $400 and the fastest car in the case will be awarded fin additional $2,500, thus giving the winner $3,500 and a cup. The course is 8 1-10 miles in length and the conditions call for 25 times tround, making the length of the race 2024 miles. Al. Mitchell's Chadwick No. 25, ran an embankment on the fifth lan and turned a somersault. Scott Mallott, the mechanician, was taken to a hospital badly injured and Mitchell was No. 2, a Simplex, driven by Ralph Beardsley, ran into a railroad bridge in Sweet Briar drive and the driver and mechanician were thrown out. The mechanician, Ethridge, was badly hurt. The car was wrecked. Chadwick won on time allowance.

AMUSING SCENE AT THE JAIL

Expressman Comes With Crook's Baggage and Receives a Lordly Tip As Per Orders.

John Hawthorne, alias John Holcomb, negro pickpocket with a world-wide reputation, stepped jauntily from the police auto this morning and tripped nto the station. In his hand was a shining new soft hat. He wore a suit of clothes that spoke eloquently for themselves. His shoes and socks matched. When searched he had plenty of money. He registered on the desk sergeant's blotter. Just as the dusky Mr. Hawthorne was being led back to jail an express wagon drove up and deposited a large trunk on the sidewalk. On its side were the initials "J. H." The express driver asked if Mr. Hawthorne lived within. He was answered in the afwithin. He was answered in the arfirmative by the grinning Mr. Hawthorne in person. "Ya'as, sir, I lives yere, in this ye're hotel, but I don't likes Mrs. Sait Lake's cooking so I won't stay very long." He then directed that a tip be given to the driver.

Chief Barlow says he has had many lodgers, but the ebony Mr. Hawthorne is the first who ever brought his trunk. ARRESTED AT THE FAIR.

Hawthorne is under arrest charged with picking the pocket of Willis Cotton, the ice man, at the state fair grounds several days ago, and obtaining over $200.

Special Policeman Ed Mitchell knew Special Policeman Ed Mitchell Reve Hawthorne and was detailed to find him. He learned that he was in Ogden. Taking Cotton along he went there. Last night at the ringside of the Mc-Govern-Reagen match sat Mr. Hawthorne in one of the best seats. He seemed at ease and enjoying himself. Mitchell later arrested him in a saloon there—after the fight as he did not care to interfere with his pleasure.

Cotton was told he must come to to pack his clothes. His trunk was then taken along.

Hawthorne, alias, Halcomb, is a man of many disguises. He makes old Cap Collier, and Nick Carter look like amateurs, the police say, One day he is a dapper dude. The next he appears as a tramp. Again he is a lawyer, doctor, merchant, gambler anything at all. He has many suits of clothes. He will be held for trial.

POLICY AS TO LONG AND SHORT HAUL PROVISION

Washington, Oct. S.—With a view to the formulation and establishment of a policy respecting the administration of the long and short haul provisions of the interstate commerce act the interstate commerce commission today conducted a hearing. Shippers and railroad officials generally participated. The law provides that no greater freight charge shall be exacted for a short haul than for a longer haul on the same line and moving in the same direction. This measure is hedged about by several provisions which in certain circumstances confer on the commission discretionary powers to grant railroads the privilege of charging more for the shorter than for the longer haul. Application for the privilege must be made by the roads and the commission must determine that the request is reasonable. It would be physically impossible for the commission to conduct a hearing on each application. With a view to obtaining information to enable it to adopt general regulations the hearing today was held.
